Door Keeper: I have to inform your Majesty, in the name of Allah that vizier Muhammad Najib and Zia-ud-din Barani have arrived to see you.

Muhammad: Let them come in.

(The door-keeper goes out. The step-mother covers her face with her veil. Najib and Barani enter the room)

Najib, Barani: In the name of Allah, we greet your Majesty.

Muhammad: Come in, come in. I was just telling my mother.....

Step mother: Muhammad, why don't you tell them about your chess?

Muhammad: I am not going to tell them about it because they are not interested in the game. Barani is a historian and therefore interested in playing with the ghost of the dead. He knows how to play chess with them. Najib is a politician and does not want lifeless objects to play with. He wants pawns of flesh and blood. He does not have patience to put life and blood in lifeless bones. An-ul-Mulk can do this. I'll tell him about chess. Now Najib, please tell me how far have we reached in the matter.

Najib: I am doing my best to collect adequate army. But I don't think that we will be able to collect more than six thousand soldiers. There are many difficulties to face. There is a great danger also before us.

Barani: May I know about the difficulties and dangers that are before us your Majesty.

Najib: But there is another problem which is no less important. Sheikh Imam-ud-din is in Delhi. (It is feared that the Sheikh may invite people against the Sultan as he has done in Kanpur)

Muhammad: Najib seems quite nervous and upset because the Sheikh openly criticism me. He asks that I should give up the throne because he thinks that I am not competent to rule this kingdom

Najib: The conditions are even worse. The Sheikh is the leaders of the rebels. Barani can tell you, your Majesty. Please ask Barani about it.

Muhammad: Barani, You have heard the Sheikh. How does he look like? Does he resemble me? Is it so.

Barani: He looks a bit like you. Your Majesty. But how did Najib know that I have heard the Sheikh? Please forgive me. Your Majesty. But I don't want to be spied upon. I don't like that one should keep a secret watch on me.

Muhammad: Well Barani, come and tell me what he says?

Barani: He says that sultan does not respect Islam. He is a disgrace to the Muslim religion.

Muhammad: Is it all that he says? Tell me what else he says about me?

Najib: He says your Majesty is guilty of murder of your father and brother. You did this at 'Prayer time.' Therefore, you have no moral right to rule. You must give up the throne.
